

LONDON LETTER

Gambling Is Serious Drain
On Resources of Britain

By Sir Shuldham Redferris

LONDON, July 16.—Last week was what is generally known as Ascot Week. The world of fashion congregates at Ascot racecourse, about 20 miles from London, to see a series of flat-races, all very similar to the uninitiated.

ON ONE SIDE of the course is mingled with the latest in female fashion. The dressmaking industry has been working at full blast for weeks to satisfy the requirements of this annual display. A front page feature in today's Press was that two prominent ladies had appeared at Ascot wearing identical hats. When reporters asked them what they cost they said they could not remember, and so the shame of having to admit the extent to which they had been hampered by their mass-produced milliner was successfully disguised.

ASCOT is ONE of the highlights of the London season. The King and Queen and members of the Royal Family punctually and ceremoniously attend, for this is the Sport of Kings. There is a special Royal Enclosure for those with special social qualifications, of which a readiness to pay seven guineas a ticket is one. It is all a very serious business and most exacting, for apart from meeting one's friends and being seen in polite society, one of the main objects of going to Ascot is to make a little money. There is therefore much rubbing about from stand to paddock, from the place where you find out what horses are running to the place where you lay the odds, from the vantage point from which, if you are lucky, you can see the race to the queue where you have to stand to collect your winnings if any. In the midst of all this the enthusiast has to make various strange calculations; the real enthusiast spends most of his time working out—ams on paper and carries an umbrella with a built-in pencil.

IN THE LAST analysis, beneath the flower-decked layers of social exclusiveness, there is nothing more to be found than a series of commercial transactions, many of them substantial but most of them trivial. "Bit of a Gamble."

Now it is silly to be prudish about betting. Nearly everyone likes "a bit of a gamble." There are some who gamble with their lives, some with other people's lives. There are others who gamble with their money, and many more with other people's money. With some people gambling is the very essence of life. I once got into a train with a crowd of bookies returning from a race-meeting. You would think they would be glad to take time off from their exacting business and relax. Not a bit of it. They never opened their mouths without laying a wager. They bet on whether the next one they saw out of the window would be black or brown. They tossed coins. They played Rouge et Noir with cards. They drew lots to decide who would pay for a drink. When the train stopped, they bet on the time it would start again.

AND THEY ARRANGED an elaborate sweepstakes on the number of minutes the train would be late at its destination. They were going to settle it all up sometime later at a public house, and I have no doubt they did, but I marvelled at their mental dexterity. I could never be a bookie myself for I am far too idle both mentally and physically.

Courage Is Required

Whatever one may say against betting and gambling, there is no question that it requires courage, sometimes great courage and sometimes only a little, but courage is an admirable virtue. The timid man or woman never bets.

NOW GAMBLING dates back almost to prehistoric times. There is much evidence that it has always been regarded as anti-social and in this country the first laws were passed against it nearly five centuries ago. But until recent years

Seascape Suit

A seascape in red, white and blue, complete with a sailboat for realism, distinguishes this short-skirted, bathing ensemble from Paris. The outfit is of linen, with blue stripes here.

It has on the whole been restricted to certain sections of the community, for those with scant resources could not afford it. It was given a tremendous impetus by the increased prosperity resulting from the Industrial Revolution of the last century and the Betting Act which we passed in 1853 in still regarded as one of the most important enactments to deal with the social disorders caused by betting houses. Social advancement, improved communications, a more even distribution of wealth, the fact that there is more money than goods to buy, improved wages, greater leisure, are all circumstances that have vastly extended the range of organized betting. The use of the Press to popularize gambling, with its competitions which are often merely thinly disguised lotteries, its advertisements of bookmakers and tipsters, its articles on racing, has greatly increased since the beginning of the century. From about 1825 onwards there were still further extensions when the totalisator was legalized on racecourses and greyhound racing was introduced.

On a Huge Scale

Exact statistics are difficult to obtain but the total annual turnover in gambling in Great Britain is variously estimated as from fourteen hundred to two thousand million dollars. There are at least twenty thousand principal bookmakers and when allowance is made for the large number of agents, clerks, foots and runners forming the staff of these bookmakers the total number probably exceeds two hundred thousand.

A COMPARATIVELY new form of gambling is provided by the football pools which are elaborate organizations depending on forecasts of the results of football matches. The probable turnover is well in excess of two hundred million dollars and the newspaper advertising of these bodies runs little well over four million dollars a year. They employ over thirty thousand persons.

There are approximately two hundred greyhound racing tracks in the country and the total betting turnover on dog racing is in the region of two hundred million dollars a year.

Amongst all other forms of gambling are the gaming machines found in Fun Fairs and Amusement Centres and it is estimated that over forty million dollars a year

Crop Moisture
Fair to Good

Moisture conditions are fair to good in most sections of Alberta, but rain is needed in east-central districts and in the Peace River area, according to a provincial crop report issued for the period ending July 5.

Most serious damage to crops to date has resulted from a hail storm which last week swept from south of Edmonton to the Saskatchewan border, causing severe loss.

Early-sown crops will be the most seriously affected. Recovery of later crops will depend on good growing weather for the remainder of the season and the absence of early frosts.

While moisture conditions are not serious in any part of the province, in the Peace River district moisture is insufficient.

CROPS ARE POOR in fair in the Peace area and height of wheat averages 12 inches and coarse grains nine inches.

About 80 per cent of the wheat in the shot blade while 35 per cent of coarse grains is in this stage. Crop prospects are below average, and considerable damage is reported, along with some damage from weeds.

In the Edmonton district moisture conditions are fair to good, but rains are needed. Cereal grains are in good condition, and hay crops and pastures are fair to good.

HEIGHT OF WHEAT averages 13 inches, and coarse grains nine inches.

is taken by these machines, mostly in pens.

THE SITUATION revealed by these figures is the outcome of organized, persistent and elaborate exploitation. The question that arises—is does it really do any harm? The answer is that in some cases it does and in some cases it does not, but that on the whole it is a serious drain on the productive resources of the country, a waste of manpower, and a diversion of mental and moral energy which could be more usefully employed in other directions.

inches. About 45 per cent of wheat and 35 per cent of coarse grains are in the shot blade stage. Crop prospects are average. There has been severe local hail damage, and some damage from drought and weeds.

In the region from just east of Edmonton to the Saskatchewan border in districts around Lloydminster, Vermilion, and Tofield, hail damage has been severe.

Less than average crop prospects are expected in the area between Wainwright and Killam to Coronation. Moisture conditions are dry to fair only, and crops vary between poor and good. Rain is needed. Crops are growing fast, but straw is short.

Height of wheat is 10 inches, and coarse grains seven inches. Wheat is 25 per cent in the shot blade stage.

Recommendations Are Tabled On Indian Administration

OTTAWA, July 16.—(CP)—Settling up of a separate Indian affairs department with civil service reference for Indians employed on its staff was recommended today by the joint parliamentary committee on Indian affairs.

The committee's report, tabled in the Commons by Chairman Don Brown (Lib.-Que.), called for widespread changes in present Indian administration.

The report also recommended appointment of the committee again at next session to consider "long overdue" amendments to the Indian Act.

Other recommendations:

1. An Indian affairs commission be established to inquire into the terms of all Indian treaties.
2. That enforcement be left for further consideration of the committee next year.
3. That the Indian affairs branch take "immediate steps" to remove non-Indians from reservations consistent with the wishes of the band concerned.
4. Decentralization of the Indian administration with regional directors for various parts of the Dominion.
5. Widening of the competition field, now confined to local districts, for appointments as agents.
6. Abolition of the "permanent quota" for the Indian administration staff.
7. Immediate adoption of a project to erect central hospitals in northern agencies with nursing stations in remote areas.
8. Statutory provision for the care of aged, infirm or blind Indians.

The committee proposed appointment of an Indian commissioner with deputy-ministerial rank as an alternative to establishment of a separate department. The commissioner would have two assistant commissioners, one of whom would be a Canadian of Indian descent.

Drive Continues For Safer Driving in City Streets

Encouragement in their safety drive, was seen by officials of the Edmonton Safety Council this morning as the first two motorists followed by the safety car, were flawless in their driving and both showed the safety habits were constant and well framed in their minds. The above picture shows the two winners of the 100 gallon of gas awarded daily by the council in the drive, which comes to a close Saturday.

Mark Anniversary Sicily Invasion

Four years ago today, the sultry morning mists of Sicily's Pachino beaches were pierced by the mightiest air-sea armada till then assembled and Monty's "model 28" day campaign was on.

In the vanguard were troops of the First Division, about to earn a nickname destined to accompany them through the rest of their war. The "Red Patch Devils" and the crack First Canadian Armoured brigade.

Their baptism of fire, and rugged campaigning in blistering, moon-riden weather, up steep Sicilian crags and precipitous valleys, was an impressive prelude to military victories to come.

Nor were Sicily's victories of Valguarnera, Lido di Ostia and Anzio cheaply achieved—as the impressive Canadian cemetery near at Anzio testifies. The four corners point up the summit of a hill, the peak of which is marked by the memorial cross in the centre of its approximate 600 graves.

Fifteen See Boy Carried to Death

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—At least fifteen persons in a subway were seen by Anthony Mann, 11-year-old newswatch, carried to his death yesterday while clinging to the side of the coach. Police said that any one of them could have prevented the accident by pulling the emergency stop cord, but all sat transfixed. The boy, after clinging to the coach for seven blocks was crushed between the coach and a station structure when the train came to the station. He had grabbed at the centre post of the coach doorway just as the doors closed.

Irrigation Likely To Be Done in South

Commenting on the recent federal decision to spend $2,000,000 for the irrigation of 1,000,000 acres of land in Alberta, Ben Russell, provincial director of water resources, today stated that the money would probably be used on the St. Mary's river project and the Canada Land Irrigation Co. project in Southern Alberta.

Although no official word has been received by the Alberta government on the intended expenditure of the money, Mr. Russell guessed that the above two irrigation projects would receive the greatest amount of money.

Mr. Russell substantiated his guess with the fact that the Canada Land project originally called for irrigation of 200,000 acres while as yet only 50,000 acres have been watered.

Truman Will Veto New Tax Cut Bill

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—President Truman said today that he will veto the new Republican $4,000,000,000 income tax reduction bill. Mr. Truman made the statement in a press conference shortly before the Senate began consideration of the legislation already passed overwhelmingly by the House.

The president said he didn't see why there should be any change in his attitude since it is the same tax measure as the one he vetoed last year, except for a different effective date.

Scottish Doctor Visits City Says Britons Show Health Nervousness

Although not of a type medically known as hypochondriasis in which a patient imagines himself suffering from various illnesses, there was a noticeable increase in war-induced neuroses among the people of Great Britain, it was learned Thursday in an interview with Dr. Frank K. Kerr, of Edinburgh, Scotland.

PRESIDENT OF THE Edinburgh branch of the British Medical Association, Dr. Kerr and Mrs. Kerr are in Edmonton in the course of their vacation and are spending part of the holiday with the latter's parents, Mr. Justice Frank Ford and Mrs. Ford.

Dr. Kerr said, however, that although there had been a large increase in the number of patients exhibiting a high sense of health consciousness that it was mainly due to war fatigue and monotony of diet.

He said he believed there was no danger that this health nervousness would become characteristic of the newer generation of young British children; that it was a passing phase of those who had suffered the privations and responsibilities attendant upon the uncertainties and distress of flying bombs, V2 rockets and the bombing of civilians in cities.

MANY OF THOSE affected would recover when domestic and economic situations altered themselves to the betterment of general living conditions for people of the British Isles.

The doctor noted no such evidences among Canadians since his arrival on vacation here.

"In the main they appear to be robust, healthy and contented," said Dr. Kerr.

Rap Treatment Suffered Settlers

OTTAWA, July 16.—(CP)—W. D. Wylie (S.C.-Medicine Hat) told the Commons last night that settlers had been moved off the so-called British block, near Suffield, Alta., during the war with "indecent" financial settlements from the government which expropriated hundreds of acres in the area for a chemical warfare testing range.

He cited the case of one settler who after 40 years had seen his 640 acres and buildings taken for $5,000. As a patriotic citizen he had no alternative.

He urged the reopening of the question he considered by the government. Hughes Lapointe, Parliamentary assistant to Defence Minister Claxton, said the payments had been considered adequate but he would look into the suggestion.

Appointment New CO Saskatchewan Unit

Air Vice Marshal K. M. Guthrie, C.B.E., air officer commanding North West Air Command, today announced the appointment of Sqdn. Ldr. J. Ballie as commanding officer of the Auxiliary Squadron, Saskatoon.

Squadron Leader Ballie was commissioned as a Pilot Officer in the RCAF in December 1941, and posted to a course at the Central Flying School at Trenton. In February 1942, he was posted to No. 15 Service Flying Training School at Cresswell, as an instructor where he served continuously until posted overseas in March 1944.

While with 428 Squadron overseas he distinguished himself as an officer with qualities of leadership.

Greece Continues Round Up Plotters

ATHENS, July 16.—(Reuters)—Greek police were today continuing their search for 4,000 persons suspected to be involved in a plot against the government, official sources here stated.

Of the 2,500 persons so far recovered, arrested, the Athens News Agency said, 2,163 were taken in the Athens area. Other arrests were made in Salonika, Volo and Agionion in northern Greece.

Demetrius Maximos, Greek prime minister, said that "The United States government agreed with the arrests, and, I believe, the British government, too."

Approval Is Sought House Begins Debate Taxation Agreements

OTTAWA, July 10:—(CP)—The entire, complex question of Dominion-provincial financial relations was thrown open to renewed debate and counter-debate in the Commons last night when Finance Minister Abbott moved second reading of a bill to implement financial agreements already reached.

TWO SALIENT features of the bill, which will be necessary before they can be implemented, were Mr. Abbott's statement promptly made by John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, the promise of support for the Dominion provinces as far as they provided for the fiscal need of the weaker provinces, a need which no good Canadian could ignore.

Mr. Bracken adjourned the debate, which promises to be a repetition of much of what has been said in this five-month session of parliament about the tangled Dominion-provincial negotiations for new financial agreements.

AT THE SAME TIME, he conceded that the Dominion's original proposal, of course, change as a result of further study or of developing public opinion or of consultation with provincial governments at a general conference.

No Significance New North Runway

OTTAWA, July 10:—(CP)—Lt. Col. Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary) said in the Commons last night that there was no significance in the fact that the new runway at Mile 26, near Fairbanks, Alaska, has no partitions.

THAT the new runway is being built as an extension of an existing 7,000 foot runway at Mile 26 which has given rise to reports that, for some special operations, a 14,000 foot runway is planned.

THAT the new strip is being built for the heavy B-29, the spokesman said, was for that purpose. We will still have only a 7,000 foot strip.

THE existing surface, used during the war as a stoppage place for planes being ferried to Russia, are not heavy enough for the heavy bombers now being used in world strategic operations, he said.

SPORTS

HAROLD DEAN, Sports Editor

MURRAY MURDOCH, NEW YORK RANGER left winger and the original Iron Man of hockey, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, re-visiting after an absence of almost 10 years. He'll be making Edmonton and Viking hockey headquarters, getting acquainted all over again with members of his own and his wife's family.

Last time Murray was in Edmonton was the fall of 1937, when the Rangers and Americans played an exhibition series here. He had officially terminated his NHL career at the end of the previous season, but he helped Herb Gardner coach the Philadelphia Flyers the next year. In 1938 Murray was appointed hockey coach at Yale, a position he held ever since.

"I hear hockey is just as popular in Edmonton as ever—also that the arena has been all dressed up since I was here last. I'm certainly going to have a look at it before I return east."

Never Missed a Game in 11 Years

YES, MURDOCH WAS SOMETHING of an endurance man. He joined the Rangers when the team was organized in 1926, and with the club 11 years and never missed a game—exhibition or league. He was given a diamond ring when he came out for his 400th in New York.

Murray said that hockey goes big at Yale, with approximately 300 taking part in the various groups. "Last fall 440 freshmen turned out for the first practice and about 150 participate in residential games."

Yale's senior squad is in a league with Harvard, Princeton, Dartmouth and Army (West Point). Dartmouth, last year's winner, tied in a post season playoff with Toronto. All of the present Yale seniors are Americans and the New Haven rink takes home ice for the American League entry; one season. He'll be going to Viking on Saturday.

Murray's agenda also calls for a view of two of the ball at Renfrew Park, "just to see how it compares to the variety served the fans here back in the thirties." Incidentally, Murdoch handled the Shastas, an Edmonton league entry, one season. He'll be going to Viking on Saturday.

It Rained at Renfrew Park!

AND SPEAKING OF RENFREW PARK! it seems there was no doubt about last night's Cup-Balmain game being rained out—and how! "I never saw such a rain," was the John Ducey version. "Why at one time even the pitcher's mound was under several inches of water."

Grounds-keeper Cecil (Tiger) Goldstick declared the water was at least three feet deep in the two dugouts and that he expected some pumping equipment would be required to get reclamation proceedings under way this morning.

Gerry Foley is said to be slated for the goalie job with Regina Cape next season. Foley, with Portland last year, was top net-minder in the north section of the PCHL. Eddie Shamkoik who incurred a very serious eye injury while playing for Portland last winter, is back in Edmonton and fully recovered from the accident. The steel poles required for the lighting of Renfrew Park have arrived.

Is Ice Skating Faster Than Roller?

FRANK LAMB OF LONDON won the men's world two-mile roller skating championship at Oakland last night in 6:08.1, while Mary Lou Dasher of Cincinnati, took the title for the women's 800 yards in 1:34.

Reference to the 1947 World Almanac to see how these marks compare with the times by ice skaters, shows the latter hold a considerable edge over the same distances.

Robert Hackenbach's indoor ice record for two miles is 5:53.8 and was made by the St. Paul skater on Jan. 30, 1937. Lella Brooks Foster of Pittsburgh, set an indoor ice skating record of 1:21 for 800 yards on March 6, 1936.

Gallant Simon Pile-up Victim

VANCOUVER, July 10.—(CP)—

The Gallant Simon, Vancouver-based three-year-old colt, died of a broken neck in a pile-up of four horses during the running of the seventh race, the $2,000 speed handicap, at Lansdowne Park here Wednesday.

The spill, which put jockey Paul Bailey in hospital with a possible fractured shoulder, was described as the worst in the history of the track.

Wickford Point crashed into Gallant Simon as they entered the stretch, and Simon Plante and Minster Boy added to the tangle when they tripped over him.

BAILEY was injured when he was thrown from his mount, Silent Flame, Vic Boyette, Gallant Simon's jockey, Ray Christensen, riding Wickford Point and Dick Bailey on Minster Boy were spilled, but were not injured.

Top money at yesterday's race was returned by Minster in the eighth race, paying $141.50 to place and $115.50 to show. Gene S. in the fourth race paid top money, giving punters a $28.50 rebate on his $2.00 bet.

LONDON, July 10.—(Reuters)—The most famous racehorse stable in England changed hands yesterday when veteran trainer Fred Darling sold the Beckhampton training establishment to John A. Dewar, head of the century-old whisky firm. During Darling's regime, since 1915, seven Derby winners were trained at Beckhampton.

Humble Rocks Purity Batters With 1-Hitter

CALGARY, July 10.—(CP)—

A stand-out one-hit pitching performance by Lefty Humble gave Calgary Buffaloes a 3-0 victory over Purity 9B in a Big Four league baseball game at Buffalo Stadium last night.

Humble held complete control from start to finish as he hand-cuffed opposing batters with his fast, accurate throwing arm. Joe Kank, on the mound for Purity, also turned in a fine effort when he limited Buffs to three hits but they were bunched in the first inning to give Buffs a two-run lead.

Leafs Pin Royals On Rosen's Single

TORONTO, July 10.—(CP)—

The cellar-dwelling Toronto Leafs won a sea-saw struggle from Montreal Royals International Baseball League leaders 4-3 at the Quebec city last night. Leafs clinched it with a two-run flurry in the eighth inning.

Two hits and a walk loaded the bases and Goody Rosen drove a bouncer through the draw-in field to cash both runs.
At Buffalo, Clem Hausmann lost his sixth straight low-score ball game as Rochester Red Wings blanked the Bisons 5-0 in the only game. Hausmann pitched only four hits in eight innings before bowing for a pinch-hitter.

North Side Legion Sharpshooter

DAVE GILLINGS, centre forward, tops the scoring list to date for North Side Legion club, Edmonton's representatives in the sudden death Alberta final, Dominion soccer playdown, which takes place at Calgary, July 19. Dave already has two hat tricks to his credit at Clarke Stadium. Gillings was stationed at Pembroke for a considerable time during the war while with the RCAF, and after demobilization decided to return to Alberta and has taken up residence in Edmonton. He is a member of the city power plant staff. Gillings formerly played for Wallall, English Third Division League. He will be in his usual position at centre when Legion meets Army and Navy Vets in Saturday night's league game.

Two Goals by Andy Russell

SOUTH SIDE LEGION BEATS ST. PATS 4-1
The South Side Legion swept forward in the same proportions as Mother Nature's hailstorm at Clarke Stadium last night to trounce Oliver St. Pats 4-1 in a scheduled soccer game.

There was no scoring in the first half but the Legion brigade erupted with a volley of four before Oliver scored their lone boot in the second half.

ANDY RUSSELL sparked the Legion, scoring their first two goals. P. McCambridge and Bob Lawrie closed out the legion scoring effort for the evening. John, raised - Oliver centre half, booted the only St. Pat goal, a penalty shot late in the fray.

Jack MacDonald (St. Pat) goal played superlative soccer before war after wave of South Side attacks.

George Wille, secretary of the Edmonton District Soccer Association, announced last night that a council meeting will be held in the Memorial Hall Friday evening at 8:00 p.m. The draw for the AFA will be made at this meeting and all officers are asked to attend.

Linedups:
OLIVER: J. MacDonald, N. Robertson, M. Maguire, T. Burgess, E. Johnson, J. James, S. MacIntyre, E. Wade, B. Farnon, S. Davidson, G. Burgess.
SOUTH SIDE LEGION: P. Russell, J. Frey, L. Smith, J. McKie, G. Dempsey, R. Lawrie, E. Kume, P. McCambridge, R. Scott, T. Mason, G. Wille.

Northern Junior Golf Test Aug. 7
The Canadian Athletic Club will hold its third annual Northern Alberta junior golf championship over the Edmonton Golf and Country Club on August 7.

It is the 36-hole medal event and there will be 15 attractive prizes up for competition.

Bob Loftus will probably be the favorite, but the event will be keenly contested with such other stars as Jack Melstrom and Bob Kidd in the field.

South Side Legion soccer club will work out at Clarke Stadium Friday night at 7 o'clock, in preparation for Monday night's league game against Cloverdale.

Coach Harry Britt requests that all players turn out for this practice.

Arnold Playing Saunders Today For Golf Crown

By Bert Greer

Edmonton's popular Mrs. Kenneth Saunders and Paddy Arnold, long-driving star from Calgary, are trading over the rain-soaked fairways of the Municipal course today, matching shots for the provincial women's amateur golf championship.

Experience and steady playing paid off for Mrs. Saunders as she ushered young Loraine Fowler into the also-ran section, while Mrs. Arnold displayed the faculty of rising to the heights when the chips were down to eliminate Edmonton's Mrs. Tommy Vickers as she shared medal honors with Loraine.

After Fowler, 16-year-old lass who caused a lot of eyebrows to lift when she carried off the low gross and low net prizes in the bronze division, came to meet the Calgary veteran, Mrs. E. Loughrey, for that crown this morning.

The young Edmonton Miss was in her best form yesterday as she moved down Mrs. R. Slesor 7 and 6 in the semi-final. Mrs. Loughrey had a few too many shots in her bag for Mrs. K. Caldwell, and emerged with a 3 and 2 edge.

Finalists were also decided in the silver consolation and bronze consolation events and the finals were scheduled for this morning.

In the silver semi-final Mrs. J. E. Robinson shaded Mrs. A. Riley 2 and 1 and Mrs. G. Manning outlived Mrs. A. Barton 3 and 2. Mrs. D. Lush edged out Mrs. G. Gray 2 and 1 and Mrs. F. Fricker defeated Mrs. G. Small on the 18th green.

FROM TEE TO GREEN the sensationalists played fine golf, but when they reached the greens they appeared to develop putting nerves. Threeputts were common, although the greens were in ideal condition.

On the 14th, for instance, Loraine hammered out a 236-yard drive, got home in two on the 345-yard hole, and then putted like a motor-boar for a bogie five and a half. It was the longest tee shot of the tournament and labelled the 18-year-old girl as a potent threat in future tournaments when she polishes up on her short game.

Paddy, who is the defending champion, made the turn one up on Mrs. Vickers and she had a 41 on her short game.

Finalists were also decided in the silver consolation and bronze consolation events and the finals were scheduled for this morning.

Kingsway Fastball Slated Tonight
Bathing suits and schooners were appropriate for Kingsway park last evening but fastball was nowhere in sight. If weather is OK tonight the Legionnaires will play HCAP Aces and Precision Machine will tangle with ANA Vets in a scheduled Senior Men's double-header.

Legionnaires, provincial kings last season, can race further ahead of the pack with a triumph, but they'll have to solve Doug Gray's strictest form in the HCAP cockpit. Ted Kielhauch is expected to toss the pin for Vets and he'll be facing a Precision team that wants to cement its grip on runner-up spot in the circuit.

after taking a big seven on the 366-yard fifth. Mrs. Vickers was one stroke back and had a couple of shots on her card.

PADDY TOOK the first with a five when Mrs. Vickers three-putted, but the latter squared the match on the fifth with a six after Paddy sliced out of bounds.

Mrs. Vickers three-putted the seventh to go one down again, but redeemed herself on the next when she canned a 20-foot putt for a four. Paddy birdied the ninth and the 10th, but when Mrs. Vickers found a bunker.

Mrs. Vickers made a fine recovery shot from the bunker on the right of the 11th and won the hole when Paddy toyed her approach shot and the ball came to rest in an unplayable lie in the bushes.

Paddy went two up again at the 14th when Mrs. Vickers needed three putts to hole out and the Calgary girl pitched to within six feet of the pin on the 15th and cannot her putt for a birdie. They halved the 16th and it was all over.

MRS. SAUNDERS went one up at the long third with a six and increased her lead to two on the sixth when her par four was good enough for a win. Loraine birdied the ninth, but Mrs. Saunders went two up again at the 30-yard 13th with a par five and her par four at the 15th gave her a winning margin.

After Fowler fired a neat 42 on the first nine to go four up on the second nine.

Sam Sneed Enters Canadian Open
TORONTO, July 10.—(CP)—The color scheme for this year's $10,000 Canadian open golf championship was almost complete Wednesday with receipt of a filled-in entry form from three-time champion and the most colorful shotmaker in the game today, Sam Sneed, to bring total entries to 113.

With Sneed a sure starter in the big show, to be held at Toronto Scarborough Club July 16-19, the only United States leading money-maker still not heard from are Bea Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, currently running first and third in earning capacity on the golden divot trail.

Clubmen Hold CNR 3-3 In Rain and Darkness

Darkness and a slashing hailstorm drove the EAC and CNR aggregations to cover in the sixth inning at Clarke Stadium last night. The score stood at 3-3 at the time and the ball game will go into the record books as the fourth tie game in the baseball circuit this year.

What there was of the contest was a see-saw affair. The Clubmen, Bud Williams at the helm, seemed ahead with a single run in the third, and added another in the fourth. Then Lou Hilt's freight crew let off enough steam to level the score. The Clubmen took the count at last. They each counted once in the fifth.

Three walks and an error sent Connor over with the first EAC run. In the fourth singles by Hokin and O'Connor and Randolph's short double left the EAC with two men up.

26 Senior Women Enter Track Meet

Entries are pouring in daily for the forthcoming Edmonton track and field championships. To date there are 26 senior women competing, with the greatest interest being shown in the 60 metres, 100 metres and running broad jump. There are 27 entries in each of these events. The next largest class is the Junior A men with 26. The favorite event in this class seems to be the 100-yard dash with 15 entries.

The Junior women and senior men each have 12 entries. The men have most entries in the 40-yard dash, while the junior women are strongly favoring the 60 metre dash.

Princess Elizabeth Has Been Schooled From Childhood for Her High Position

By Stewart Underhill

LONDON, July 10.—(CP)—The British Commonwealth has watched Princess Elizabeth grow from a curly-haired little girl to a poised young woman of 21, trained to the responsibilities of her high position.

The Princess, whose engagement to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten was formally announced Wednesday night, has been schooled since her early years for the exacting position which she eventually must fill as England's third ruling queen since the Roman conquest.

This is the youngest whose childhood photographs filled the papers—when her dolls, on horseback, leaning forward and adults at state functions for a better view.

Between her 10th and 14th birthdays, the death of her beloved grandfather, George V, in January, 1936, was followed in December of the same year by the abdication of "Uncle David," Edward VIII who now is the Duke of Windsor, the succession to the throne of her father and in September, 1939, the outbreak of the Second World War.

When the war began, she was still a schoolgirl. She emerged from it as the young woman of the world now known—and yet doesn't know. The question "What is she?"

Store Has "Village" of Pre-Fab Houses

NEW YORK, July 10.—(CP)—Which harmonize with the small, and paint. Some of his tricks include a checkerboard of ridged plastic wood to cover a ceiling; oak paneling either plain or inlaid; a show contrast in grain; change. Chairs and tables have good lines. The largest house sports furniture combining bright lacquers with blonde wood, like the big living room coffee table with four little Chinese red stools tucked under it.

In this house, Vernon Sears, architect for United States Plywood Corporation, has used wood to take the place of wall paper.

The small community is complete in every detail except that no body is living in the houses. Shoppers in search of homes—and who can't look over white picket fences at new houses complete with new kitchen, wading pools before they wander in the front door and get a close-up look.

BRIEFLY, the furniture is simple, relying on fine wood and lines

Links With Past Dazzle Visitors

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, July 10.—(CP)—An antiques fair, revived after seven years' absence from the London scene, would be "British It's Made It."

Antique treasures fit for Aladdin's Cave sparkle and glitter from every corner of a long cream-sanded showroom at Grosvenor House Hotel, Park Lane, drawing sighs of envy and admiration from thousands of visitors from all parts of Britain and the continent.

At every point the eye is captured by some brilliant piece of handicraft executed regardless of time and labor by some patient, devoted craftsman born when mass production was unknown.

Exhibits range from 3,000-year-old pottery in silver from the days of Edward I and furniture from the early 18th century. There is a George I table, valued and last sold last year for $5,700 ($10,000); a teapot of solid gold made in 1780 and two Chien Lung porcelain figures of female ballet cooks lent by the Duchess of Devonshire.

Together the exhibits are valued at more than 2,400,000 ($36,000,000). More than 1,000 visitors, including experts, toured Britain's art treasures worthy of inclusion.

Nothing more later than 1930 was considered.

The search showed that Britain still possesses an innumerable store of art and craftsmanship, said an expert of the Antique Dealers' Association.

Queen Mary loaned a gay miniature by Hans of George IV after a portrait by Lawrence; and a Louis Quinze clock, pearl ivory and lapis—both box running in—scribed with the figures seen wearing a Chinese temple.

From Queen Elizabeth came several pieces of Chelsea porcelain bearing the first Anchor mark of 1755. The Princess Royal sent a silver rosewater dish and cover of 1755 originally presented by King George II to Horace Walpole, and again to the Princess as a wedding present in 1820.

All exhibits, with the exception of loans, are for sale and articles are replaced daily from fresh items. Elaborate police precautions have been taken to safeguard the treasures while they are on view.

Several social events were planned when the lively Women's Social Club held their monthly meeting recently at the home of Mrs. H. Hightower. Mrs. H. Thornton will converse a what drive at her home July 21 and Mrs. F. MacKay at her home on Aug. 11. Mrs. A. Ferguson, a recent bride, will be the guest of honor at a shower to be held at the home of Mrs. F. Ferguson on Thursday evening. The next regular meeting will be at the home of Mrs. H. Hood, secretary.

Mrs. J. G. Butler and her sons, Robert and Bill, left this week for Spokane. They will be away two weeks.

There are a couple of mistakes in today's hand which might be made by a careless player.

South's bid of three clubs is very bad. He has only a minimum opening bid, and his correct response over two diamonds is two hearts. Then he will not find himself in a four heart contract. Secondly, his strong bidding should enable the opponents to defend the hand correctly.

Declarer plays the queen of spades from dummy on the opening lead, and East goes up with the ace. A spade is returned, so West catches the ten and king of spades. Now what should he lead?

South's strong bidding should tell him that his only possible chance for a trick is to continue with the fourth spade. Then if he finds his partner with the jack of hearts, a heart trick will be established for West.

A careful declarer would never cover the jack of spades with the queen, nor should the queen be played when West continues with the ten-spot. It would take every smart defence for East to win the second spade with the ace and return the third spade. Thus declarer's careless play to the first trick placed the whole hand in jeopardy.

HOW THE WORLD WOULD LOOK FROM MOON

"The earth is a ball, and anyone looking out from the surface of that ball gets the notion of course that he is in the centre of all things hung in the sky on all sides of him. We see things up in the sky and not down in the sky because the earth interferes with our view. If the earth were transparent, however, we would see the sun and moon when they are down in the sky.

SC Head Warns Of Coming Crisis

OTTAWA, July 10.—(CP)—Solon Low, leader of the Social Credit party, today warned against "within a space of months, the history of mankind for generations to come may be decided."

Mr. Low, in an address in the CBC's free-time political series, said the world could be reaching an awful climax, in two years since the close of World War II, we have witnessed the rapid development of the Communist threat.

"The spirit of revolution fostered by international Communism is not only a threat to the West, but it is a revolution in power, not men. Men die, but the spirit of revolution lives in Europe today, with the exception of Holland and Belgium, has a strong or stable government. All such countries present a fertile field for Communist influence under the dynamic leadership of Russia.

"Every country on earth is today faced with the grave decision as to what side it will take. None can remain aloof. The collective world has come face to face with the world of the good versus the true democracy. How long can we live each other without armed conflict?"

"War is not inevitable. It can be prevented, if God it may be."

Many Attractions Provided At Edmonton's Annual Exhibition

Advise Summer Fair Patrons Visit Manufacturers' Show

The natural resources of the domain, and from many parts of the world will be on display at the Summer Fair, and patrons to the Manufacturers' Show.

Housed in these buildings will be the most interesting and brilliant display of industrial, commercial and agricultural exhibits ever staged in Edmonton.

Every inch of available space in the Manufacturers' Building was booked early in the year, and to accommodate the overflow of bookings an annex building has been prepared.

and even this additional space has been insufficient to take care of the applications received by the Association.

Painters and decorators have been busy in their business for some time, and on Monday, the opening day of the summer fair, visitors will be greeted with an interior decorative scheme that blends delicate pastel shades in a symphony of colour.

In addition to the decorative improvements, special attention has been paid to the betterment of accommodation for the convenience of visitors to both buildings, and never before in history has the

Royal Scotch Collies To Perform Here

Anyone who has seen Duncan's Royal Scotch Collies in their thrilling act in previous Edmonton summer fairs, will recall they make up one of the world's best animal acts. The collies and their amazing skill will be on display in Edmonton again next week at the nightly grandstand performance of the 69th annual exhibition. They will occupy a headline role in the variety program which will make this year's grandstand attractions among the best ever presented here. The collies came direct to western Canada from Britain for the current fairs tour.

As well as being set for an enjoyable visit to the phase of the summer fair's activities. Among the outstanding items to be on exhibit at the Manufacturers' Building will be latest fashions in fur created in the London, New York and Paris fashion marts. These will show the finest of Canadian furs. Also on display will be the latest fashions in ladies' clothes. Notable exhibits of the products of Canadian forests also will be on display, and not the least interesting will be the "from mine to finished article" display of aluminum.

Craftsmanship
The craftsmanship of Canadian workers in the fine arts also will be on view in many of the booths, and the finished and unworked highlights of our agricultural and livestock industry will be brought vividly to the attention of patrons in well staged and striking displays.

Modern home appliances and furnishings will form another very interesting feature, and the family will gain many a thrill by a visit to these displays.

The arrangement of the displays this year will be unusually attractive and the colour schemes of the different booths have been selected to blend with the existing backgrounds of the buildings' walls.

The displays in the Manufacturers' building and its annex should

Royal Loves Swerved Destiny of Britain Over Thousand Years

By The Canadian Press

Royal loves and marriages, through nearly 1,000 years of complex turbulent history, have affected the course of an island kingdom to what now is the British Commonwealth of Nations.

ONE OF the most famous—perhaps the strangest—of royal romances was Henry V's courtship of Katherine of Valois, the youngest sister of Isabella, the "Queen" who at the age of eight had gone to England as the promised consort of Richard II.

When Henry was Prince of Wales, his father had sought to match him with Katherine, after two elder sisters, the widowed Isabella and Marie, had rejected fighting. Received in England "as if she had been an angel of God," Katherine of Valois was given only three years. She was barely 21 when her illustrious husband died.

Against the wishes of his allies, the powerful Earl of Warwick, young Edward IV of York, victor in the War of the Roses, married Elizabeth Woodville, daughter of the Duchess of Bedford, thereby touching off a train of far-reaching events.

Edward disregarded the counsel of his court to give political and personal preference to his wife's relatives. Jealousy among the nobles made it possible for Richard of Gloucester, his cousin, to seize the throne. Richard's bloody interlude ended with his defeat at Bosworth by the Welsh Earl of Richmond who then reigned as Henry VII. Accepted gratefully by all the people, the new House of Tudor initiated one of the greatest of Britain's royal lines.

THE POPE'S refusal to divorce Henry VIII and Katherine of Aragon—defied by the King—brought about the change from Roman Catholicism to Protestantism in England, with the accompanying seizure of church-owned lands, dissolution of monasteries, persecutions and reprisals which continued long after Henry and his six wives, two of whom he beheaded, were dead.

Religious conflict broke out anew with greater fury in the reign of Charles I, who was wedded to Henrietta Maria of France, an ardent Catholic. One result of this marriage was peace with France, but at home troubles multiplied. Protestants joined battle, and finally civil war was visited upon the country in the years 1642-48. After a tumultuous reign of 29 years the defeated Charles was executed, his widow fled to France and Oliver Cromwell took over as protector.

THE MARRIAGE of William of Orange and Mary, daughter of James II, in 1677, changed the course of English history. For it opened the way for the Dutch William to succeed to the Crown after his wife's death as the third ruler to bear that name.

British prestige gained immeasurably under Queen Victoria and her consort, Prince Albert. Imperious but extremely popular, Victoria appealed to that national ideal of valour which even now prompts Britons to say their land is happier and most prosperous in the guiding hands of a woman sovereign. Her marriage was held up throughout the world as something of a royal model.

Around the world, in the uneasy year 1836, spread the electrifying news that King Edward VIII had relinquished his throne "for the woman I love." The American-born Mrs. Wallis Simpson, unprecedented in British history, it was feared that Edward's renunciation would have grave repercussions throughout the Empire.

DESPITE EDWARD's temporary popularity, however, his abdication did not impair the unity of the Commonwealth which early accepted the Duke and Duchess of York as its new rulers and changed the whole line of succession to the throne.

His commoner, daughter of the Earl and Countess of Strathmore and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon
